SPRING 2019: IT IS TIME!

From the moment that we started on this journey together, Isaiah and I find ourselves returning to one question, "Do you trust me?". God seems to whisper to our hearts in our hardest times, and the times where we easily praise Him for His goodness. We have been itinerating for over a year now. We have raised our cash budget. (Hallelujah!! Thank you, Jesus!!! I am dancing!!) We are just under 70% of our monthly budget. We know and believe 2019 is our year to go. As our lives begin to reflect this coming change we still find ourselves face to face with this question. But, we are trusting God for every family member, every church, every new partner that will stand with us to fulfill our call. Pray for peace as we pack. Pray for comfort as we say goodbye. Pray for partners so we can be fully funded by August.

DO YOU TRUST HIM?

WE WERE HONORED TO SPEAK IN CHAPEL!

THE KIDS

Although a lot of changes have happened, including the selling of most of their furniture, the kids are excited. God has moved in their hearts giving them peace as we decided the toys and things that will go and those that will stay. Our trash cans are always full, praise God, and no tears shed!! This weekend as we ate dinner in Canada, trying out their passports, they were talking about how their friends are jealous of all the cool places we have gotten to travel to and see. They are excited for the next steps, as they finish out their last school year in the states.

ISAIAH & HEATHER

We have been so honored and grateful for all the churches that have invited us to come and share our hearts for Colombia. We had the honor of speaking in chapel at the University of Valley Forge. It was awesome to go back where our journeys and callings intertwined as we celebrate 13 years of marriage in May. We are excited as we move forward and follow His call. Isaiah has traveled hundreds of miles meeting with Pastors and visiting churches. Beginning in July, Isaiah and I will be itinerating together as I am stepping down as the Family Life Pastor at our church in Port Jervis.

THE FAMILY

Change has become our normal. June will mark the end of an 8 years season as Pastors at First A.G. Church. It is bitter sweet as we say good bye to those we love! We are so thankful for the relationships and, really, the family we made here. We will pack up our things, leave our home and move in with Heather's parents as we finish itinerating and prepare to leave for language school, Costa Rica, in August.
